G. S. Vaidya

- a. reduction and reorganization of reserve of the Company (as defined hereinafter) and reclassification and transfer of General Reserves (as defined hereinafter) in the manner as set out in this Scheme (as defined hereinafter) pursuant to the provisions of Sections 230 and 231 read with Section 52 and Section 66 and other applicable provisions of the Act (as defined hereinafter);

- c. PART III deals with the general terms and conditions that would be applicable to this Scheme.

E. RATIONALE FOR THIS SCHEME

The Company (as defined hereinafter) is currently engaged in the business of manufacturing and supply of Wind Turbine Generators ('WTG').

The Company (as defined hereinafter) had suffered losses in the past, due to which it has been facing challenges to scale its business and unleash its full potential for growth and profitability. However, there has been a turnaround in the operations/business of the Company (as defined hereinafter). After proactively managing its debt position by way of debt restructuring agreements and repayment of debt, clubbed with the boost in the renewable energy markets, the Company (as defined hereinafter) has been able to report profits on a standalone basis in the financial year 2022-23, financial year 23-24 and for the period end 30th June 2024.

Despite reporting profits during the financial year 2022-23 financial year 23-24 and for the period end 30th June 2024, the accumulated losses are weighing down the financial statements of the Company (as defined hereinafter) with a substantial amount of accumulated negative Retained Earnings (as defined hereinafter) the financial statements of the Company (as defined hereinafter) are not reflective of its true current financial health.

The Company (as defined hereinafter) continues to carry a debit balance (in other words negative balance) of Retained Earnings (as defined hereinafter) on its balance sheet. At the same time, the Company (as defined hereinafter) has unutilized balances lying under various reserves, which are neither earmarked for any specific purpose, nor have any lien marked thereon and/or obligation attached thereto.

The Company (as defined hereinafter) is of the view that the financial statements of the Company (as defined hereinafter) are not reflective of its true current financial health and therefore, it is necessary to reduce and reorganize the reserve of the Company (as defined hereinafter).

In a strategic move to reduce and reorganize the reserves of the Company, the Scheme (as defined hereinafter) proposes to set-off the negative balance in the Retained Earnings (as defined hereinafter) chronologically against the following reserves viz. Capital Reserve (as defined hereinafter), Capital Contribution (as defined hereinafter), Capital Redemption Reserve (as defined hereinafter), Securities Premium (as defined hereinafter), and General Reserve (as defined hereinafter). The above set-off could potentially reap strategic benefits including but not limited to the following:

- a. the financial statements of the Company (as defined hereinafter) should reflect its true and fair financial health;
- b. to obliterate the capital being lost and not represented by available assets of the Company (as defined hereinafter):
- c. help in resizing the reserves of the Company (as defined hereinafter) and thereby denoting a positive reserve representing its true and fair financial position which is commensurate with its business and assets;
- d. enable the Company (as defined hereinafter) to explore opportunities for the benefit of the shareholders of the Company (as defined hereinafter) including but not restricted to dividend payment per the applicable provisions of the Act (as defined hereinafter), etc.;
- e. enable Company (as defined hereinafter) to use the amounts lying in the Capital Reserve (as defined hereinafter), Capital Contribution (as defined hereinafter), Capital Redemption Reserve (as defined hereinafter), Securities Premium (as defined hereinafter), and General Reserve (as defined hereinafter) which are currently neither earmarked for any specific purpose, nor have any lien marked thereon and/or obligation attached thereto; and
- f. The Scheme would not have any impact on the shareholding pattern of the Company.

Over the years the Company (as defined hereinafter) has built up significant General Reserves (as defined hereinafter) through transfer of profits to the General Reserves (as defined hereinafter) in accordance with provisions of the applicable laws and rules notified thereunder.

G. S. Vaidya

While the excess reserves can be profitably utilized for the Company's (as defined hereinafter) overall growth strategy, for achieving flexibility in using these funds to maximise shareholder's wealth it is proposed that post the set-off of reserves as mentioned above the balance in General Reserve (as defined hereinafter) will be transferred to Retained Earnings (as defined hereinafter).

The reduction and reorganisation of reserve and subsequent reclassification and transfer of General Reserves (as defined hereinafter) to Retained Earnings (as defined hereinafter) as mentioned above will resize the balance sheet of the Company (as defined hereinafter) with effect from the Appointed Date (as defined hereinafter) and shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Applicable Law.
