- Commitment to a strong HSE culture is a core value – A strong HSE culture is vital to the welfare of all concerned personnel, improving environment performance and ensuring long-term success.
- Develop HSE competency – Provide necessary and required HSE trainings; each employee (including contract workers) will commit to acquire the necessary HSE competency by fully engaging in training programs, workshops & HSE events.
- Consultation and Participation – Foster a culture of consultation and active participation, where all internal and external stakeholders are encouraged to contribute their ideas, expertise and feedback on matters related to health, safety and environment.
- Completing work in a safe manner, stop unsafe work – Each personnel will contribute towards creating a safe workplace by rejecting unsafe practices and inculcating safety-oriented behavioural practices.
